

UNLV ATHLETIC TRAINING PROGRAM TRANSFER POLICY

Currently, the Athletic Training Program (ATP) at UNLV is a competitive based entry program, designed to be completed in 5 semesters. The cohort (class size) is targeted to maintain the entry of 15 students in each accepted class during the spring of each year. Traditionally, students apply for acceptance during the spring to begin the 5 semester program the following spring. Accepted students will then go through the curriculum classes, clinical internship rotations, and complete the required competencies and proficiencies in the outlined order. Students may transfer to UNLV in the spring, summer or fall. Being accepted by the university does NOT automatically guarantee acceptance into the ATP. A transfer student must apply separately for entry into the UNLV ATP.

Transfer Application

The method for the transfer student to enter the UNLV ATP requires the documentation of a minimum of 250 internship hours directly supervised by an ATC at the community college, junior college, or university setting. If this requirement is met, the prospective transfer student must contact the Program Director to determine if there is room available in an existing cohort. By initiating the application process in the spring a student would be requesting a summer semester start in the UNLV ATP. If there is space available in the UNLV ATP, the prospective transfer student must complete the following to be eligible for entry.

1. Apply for and be formally admitted to the University of Nevada Las Vegas
 - a. Check the university deadlines for application and registration of classes.
 - b. Meet with the Division of AHS advisor to clarify all transfer course work.
2. Submit the UNLV ATP application via the atrackonline.com website (access will be given by the program director) no later than April 1
3. Successfully complete an on-site or online interview
4. Receive tentative approval from the Program Director for summer entry

Once these steps have been completed the student must have completed or transferred the following courses, prior to the following fall semester.

- KIN 101 Introduction to AT
- KIN 102 Introduction to AT Clinical (At UNLV in Summer)
- KIN 201 Exercise and Sport Injury Care (At UNLV in Summer)
- KIN 150 Management of Sport Trauma/Illness
- Kin 245 Anatomical Kinesiology

By completing the above courses and requirements with a minimum UNLV GPA of 2.75, a student would arrive at UNLV during the summer session. The courses taken during the summer session would be considered the 1st of the required 5 semesters that need to be completed. The student would then start the fall semester with the same experience as the other students in their cohort.
